PLAYERS FOR AIR CORPS

Independence of Action Wanted

Board Told War Department Not Alive to Needs of Army Aviation

Separate Promotion List and Higher Rank in Force Held Necessary

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Six army air pilots, each a major in command of an important activity of the Air Service, lined up today in favor of an independent air corps in the Army, declaring it to be the best means of promoting the nation's air defense and also of alleviating a condition of unrest now existing among the air personnel.

Testifying before the President's air board, the officer-pilots declared a seeming lack of consideration by the War Department of aviation matters was the underlying cause of existing dissatisfaction among junior officers, but emphatically denied they were "muzzled" by the department from expressing their personal views.

Their opinions favoring an independent corps were given an added impetus by those familiar with the medical needs of aviators, Dr. William H. Wilmer, eye specialist of Baltimore, and Washington, who served as a flight surgeon with the A. E. F., vigorously expressing this view.

Tomorrow Col. William Mitchell, who asserted before a Congressional committee last winter that junior officers were "muzzled" to tell the truth, is expected to be called.

NO PERSONAL ANIMUS
The officers heard today were Maj. Walter G. Kliner, executive officer of the Air Service; Maj. Ralph Royce, in command of the primary flying school at Brooks field, Texas; Maj. Horace M. Hickman, in command of the Air Service school at Kelly field, Texas; Maj. Thomas G. Langhorne, in command of the Air Service school at Kelly field, Texas; Maj. John H. Pirtle, of Fort Leavenworth, Kansas; Maj. L. B. Bauer, of the Army War College; Maj. G. Q. Jones, chief of the Air Service supply division; and Lieut. H. L. George, of the office of the chief of the Air Service.

These officers asserted the unrest did not involve any dissatisfaction with individuals, but could be attributed largely to the "slowness" of the War Department to act upon suggestions for improvement of the Air Service, as described in need of additional men and equipment.

Maj. Kliner, the first witness, and he declared difficulties confronting the service were not ones of personalities, but of organization. The chief of the Air Service, he held, should at all times be empowered to direct the activities of his men.

Heading a long list of army aviators to be heard, including Col. William Mitchell, who is fighting for a unified air service, Maj. Kliner declared at the beginning that he favored a separate air corps in the Army, such as that favored by Maj. Gen. Patrick, chief of the service.

"Have you any constructive suggestions?" continued Senator Ringham.
"Yes, turn the Air Service over to Rye,"

DISSENTION TOLD
Maj. Kliner then read a statement on the functions of the Air Service in war service, in which he declared that pursuit and bombardment presented an "air problem" that only airmen can develop.

The witness said he understood Gen. Patrick, chief of the Air Service, was preparing a report of the Air Service, and that he believed that Gen. Patrick's report would express his views better than he could.

"Do you know of any dissatisfaction among air officers?" he was asked.
"Yes," replied Kliner.

The slowness of action on air-craft matters, he said, and the apparent lack of "comprehension" of air problems are the chief causes of dissatisfaction.

As an example of "indecision," Maj. Kliner said it required the Army Air Service one year and six days to get funds for the world flight. Three weeks, he said, were spent in getting permission to send a squadron of airplanes from Selridge field, Michigan, to Miami.

Senator Ringham of Connecticut asked whether the problem was "personal" or "political."
"Personal," the witness answered, adding: "Our planes are good and we have the best pursuit planes in the world."

CAUSES GIVEN
Maj. Kliner said the three major causes for dissatisfaction among air officers resulted from the air officers failing to receive proper consideration from the War Department, the handicap of junior rank, and a promotion list separate from other army units.

Maj. Royce, the second witness, also declared that the lack of higher ranking officers caused much dissatisfaction in the Air Service, emphasizing that the junior officers could not carry sufficient weight in presenting air matters to superiors.

He said air service matters frequently were handled by junior officers in conference with majors and brigadier-generals, and consequently the air service viewpoint did not carry as much weight as did the opinions of the higher officers.

Maj. Royce declined to express any opinion on the proposed independent air corps, but declared that the present situation was "not satisfactory" and that the Air Service was "not getting its share of the national budget."

DIVERS REACH INTERIOR OF SUNKEN SUBMARINE

Condition Studied in Rescue Hope; Rough Seas Thwart Efforts to Lift Underwater Ship

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEWPORT (R. I.) Sept. 28.—The divers working on the sunken submarine S-51 were forced by a ground swell and swift tide to abandon their efforts at 11 o'clock tonight, according to a message received here through naval communications. The dispatch said that diving operations would be resumed at 5 o'clock tomorrow morning if the weather moderated.

NEW LONDON (Ct.) Sept. 28.—Divers went into the battery-room of the submerged S-51 tonight to investigate the condition of the craft and determine what doors and hatches to the various compartments are open or closed. This information was contained in a wireless message from Rear-Admiral Christie on the Camden of the rescue fleet. The message also said the sea was too rough to permit lifting with the Monarch and Century, wrecking boats sent to join the fleet.

Rear-Admiral Christie's message read as follows:
"Sea still too rough to lift with Monarch and Century. Making best time by sending divers into battery room and so far forward and aft to work in interior preliminary to lifting when weather permits."

Officers here said they hoped for a report on the divers' investigation before the night was over. The information will prove extremely valuable in determining whether the men are alive, they said.

The divers who went down tonight hoped to determine what doors and hatches in the vessel are closed and thus form a basis for securing access to the safety of those within.

PLAN TO ATTACH HOSE
The divers were to attach additional air hose to the valves of these compartments, forcing air inside for the benefit of any who might be imprisoned and forcing out through other valves any water that might have got into the rooms before the men could close the doors.

A third task was to determine, if possible, what parts of the submarine were filled with water and what parts had been pumped out, in order that those on the surface could figure out the vessel's weight.

The work of these men was considered merely preliminary to a resumption of the lifting operations and officers of a boat returning from the scene tonight said the sea was moderating and that the plan of attaching hose to the valves had been recalled from the ice of Block Island where she took shelter from the storm.

Whether the sea would moderate to the extent that her huge cranes and derrick could be used to lift the wreck, could be put in motion before daylight, was problematical. But both boats stood by ready to start operations.

The sea still was somewhat choppy and rough, and this added to the peril of the task. Rear-Admiral H. M. Christie of the Camden, flagship of the rescue fleet, and William Reid, faced.

Officers of the submarine base were eagerly for reports of investigations of these men. Rear-Admiral H. M. Christie of the Camden, flagship of the rescue fleet, sent fifty messenger messages concerning them.

Undaunted by the failure of the rescue ships to work in the heavy swell, fourteen miles off Block Island, where the S-51 was sunk last Friday night, the rescue fleet, the Savannah Line steamer City of Rome, the officers in charge believed they will be able to force enough air into the compartments in which men might be alive—if any such exist—to keep them alive. They thus disposed of a so-called "deadline" of time which had set seventy-two hours as the limit which the men could survive without the aid of fresh air.

RESCUE THWARTED
A fleet of rescue craft, augmented early today by the tugboat wrecking ship Monarch, was battered by the elements and rough weather, which caused a suspension of operations about noon. As officers at the submarine base waited anxiously, no word came that their function as to whether the work could go on. Cable it was understood, had been placed by the rescue fleet.

The officer said he personally removed the covers from two of the valves and ordered those of two other valves removed. The other four valves were uncovered before the ship left Block Island.

Lieut. Mayer denied that the purpose of the covers was to prevent the escape of helium gas, saying that their function was to prevent the gas bags sucking air.

The rate of the rise of the Shenandoah was estimated at 100 feet per hour.

VALVE PLAN DEFENDED

Shenandoah Held Unimpaired

Witness Avers Reduction in Number of Safety Outlets Innocent of Blame

Another Asserts Landsdowne Free to Curtail Trip if He So Desired

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
LAKEMHURST (N. J.) Sept. 28.—A defense of the curtailed valve plan installed in the airship Shenandoah early last summer and introduction of testimony to show that Commander Zachary Lansdowne had full liberty of action under his orders to make the Midwestern flight, constituted the highlights today at the beginning of the second week of the naval court of inquiry investigating the wreck of the ship on the 3rd inst.

The reduction of the number of the Shenandoah's automatic valves from eighteen to eight, has been sharply criticized by Capt. Anton Heinen, former German Zeppelin pilot. Announcement was made by the court that Capt. Heinen will be called as a witness, probably Wednesday or Thursday.

Rear-Admiral Hilary P. Jones, president of the court, directed Judge-Advocate Foley to continue with the testimony of Commander Lansdowne, widow of the captain of the wrecked craft, to ascertain if she desires to make any statement before the court. Mrs. Lansdowne was quoted as having said after the accident that her husband did not want to take the Midwestern flight and feared storms during the trip.

DEFENSE SYSTEM
Amplifying his previous testimony, Lieut. Roland G. Mayer, construction officer of the Shenandoah, said that the valve system as an entirely safe one, but gave direct testimony that the covers from all the automatic valves were removed when the ship first began to ascend and that there was no failure of the helium gas cells before the ship broke in two.

The officer said he personally removed the covers from two of the valves and ordered those of two other valves removed. The other four valves were uncovered before the ship left Block Island.

Lieut. Mayer denied that the purpose of the covers was to prevent the escape of helium gas, saying that their function was to prevent the gas bags sucking air.

divers about the S-51 lying in twenty-three fathoms of water. But the waves tossed the ship bearing the huge cranes about so persistently that they were unable to get their machinery into motion.

One attempt to raise the submarine yesterday failed because the weight was too great for the ship that was pulling on her.

While the officers centered their attention on the work of the rescue craft at sea, Lieutenant-Commander H. A. Flanagan, executive officer at the base, issued orders to deny a report from Boston that the S-51 was commanded by "rookie officers." The report said a member of the crew of the City of Rome had signed an affidavit, which was in possession of the Ocean Steamship Company offices in Boston, to the effect that student officers were in the conning tower when the vessel was sunk.

Lieutenant-Commander Flanagan pointed out that no officer could be assigned to the submarine base unless he had had at least two years of naval service and that the base was a training school for officers as well as men who wanted detailed instructions in the handling of submarines. The S-51 was on a practice cruise when she went down.

The term "student officer," Lieutenant-Commander Flanagan said, might be misinterpreted in describing officers of the school, but it should be understood thoroughly that they are simply students of submarine duties and not the general service duties.

All the officers who were on the S-51 at the time she was sunk were fully qualified surface ship officers and to stand watch as officers of the deck. In addition, three of the six officers had considerable submarine experience and the other three had already had two months' training in submarines.

Lieutenant-Commander Flanagan also criticized the City of Rome commander and said "There is no doubt in the mind that responsibility for the collision rests solely on the shoulders of the City of Rome."

"It is undeniably true that the lousy handling of the City of Rome after the collision, the fail-

Shenandoah on the first uncontrolled descent was not so rapid as the ship had gone up on three occasions on other flights, Mayer said. On the trip to the Pacific Coast the craft went up 400 feet at three times the rate of the first rise, and again in a line equal of the New Jersey coast she rose twice at the rate of more than three meters per second.

Lieut. Mayer said the first sound of failure he heard was on the down drop after the ship had reached the extreme altitude. He heard wires snapping, but could not identify where they were, as at that time the ship had been pitching and tossing for ten minutes.

When the ship was falling the cells clapped and flapped, the officer said, and this probably led some of the crew to believe the cells had failed.

"That was my first thought," Mayer said, "but later I scrutinized the one over my head carefully and found that it was 88 per cent full."

There was a progressive breaking up of the ship, the officer said. The change in the ship's position was a sound of an engine or breaking away. Then the ship went to pieces rapidly, the hull breaking and the control car falling away.

The witness told Rear-Admiral H. P. Jones, president of the court that on the Pacific coast flight the Shenandoah had her original system of eighteen automatic valves.

Under further questioning Lieut. Mayer said the recommendation for the change of the automatic valves on the Shenandoah was transmitted to the Bureau of Aeronautics at Washington by Commander Zachary Lansdowne.

The change in the valve system was made primarily to save weight and not helium, Lieut. Mayer said. He said the experience had "conclusively proved" to him that the change was not detrimental in any way to the safety of the ship with its original valves.

At the time of the change, the officer continued, there was no criticism of it from any source far as had come to his knowledge.

Lieut. Mayer's testimony with respect to the gas cells was substantiated by Charles E. Rauch, who with Mayer was in charge of the keel and the cells. He said they were functioning normally right up to the time the ship broke.

Capt. George W. Steele, Jr., commander of the Lakehurst naval air station, expressed the belief that the flight order for the Shenandoah for the western voyage gave Commander Lansdowne all the liberty of action necessary. He added that when he undertook to fly the Los Angeles to Minneapolis he was fully within its terms when he turned back at Cleveland on account of engine trouble.

No more decent diving weather may be expected until May. Then the Navy got $5500 for the wreckage of the alrship Shenandoah, or only $500 more than a single Ohio farmer received from admission charges for those who visited one part of the wreckage.

ARMY AIR SERVICE WANTS LOS ANGELES

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Maj. Gen. Mason M. Patrick, chief of the Air Service, is expected today to act as Secretary Davis a memorandum showing that air service officers who must be familiar with the conditions of the airship Los Angeles had recommended to him recently that funds be set aside to obtain the Los Angeles for the Army Air Service.

The recommendation was made by Gen. Patrick by Col. G. H. Hall, who was army observer aboard the Shenandoah when that ship crashed.

"This recommendation," the memorandum said, "was submitted by Col. Hall, after he had been given an opportunity to examine the Los Angeles with great care and after he had flown in this dirigible."

Gen. Patrick's statement was prompted by publication of reports that the War Department had received confidential reports which indicated that the Los Angeles was not in satisfactory condition.

The three lives mentioned by the executive officer were taken to mean those who were believed to have escaped the sinking submarine when she was struck. The three men rescued reported seeing them at the time they escaped from the vessel and one of them said he was certain Lieutenant Dobson, in command, was one of those who got out.

Officers and men at the naval base today refused to give up hope that some of their friends on board might be alive. They believed that at least some of the men might have gotten into airtight compartments that were not invaded by chlorine gas formed when salt water came in contact with the submarine's batteries.

The halting of rescue work dampened their hopes, because the most optimistic of observers had said there was enough air in tanks to last the imprisoned men for seventy-two hours and that time would expire at about 10:30 to-night.

Informing that both Alfred Geier and Michael E. Lira, survivors of the disaster, who are in the hospital at Chelsea, Mass., had denied having told anyone that "rookie officers" were in command of the S-51, Lieutenant-Commander Flanagan said Dewey Kille, the third survivor, who was brought here, also said he had spoken to no one about the wreck.

Recounts Withstanding of Pressure in Ascent

Lansdowne Declared to Have Been Own Master

Shenandoah on the first uncontrolled descent was not so rapid as the ship had gone up on three occasions on other flights, Mayer said. On the trip to the Pacific Coast the craft went up 400 feet at three times the rate of the first rise, and again in a line equal of the New Jersey coast she rose twice at the rate of more than three meters per second.

Lieut. Mayer said the first sound of failure he heard was on the down drop after the ship had reached the extreme altitude. He heard wires snapping, but could not identify where they were, as at that time the ship had been pitching and tossing for ten minutes.

When the ship was falling the cells clapped and flapped, the officer said, and this probably led some of the crew to believe the cells had failed.

"That was my first thought," Mayer said, "but later I scrutinized the one over my head carefully and found that it was 88 per cent full."

There was a progressive breaking up of the ship, the officer said. The change in the ship's position was a sound of an engine or breaking away. Then the ship went to pieces rapidly, the hull breaking and the control car falling away.

The witness told Rear-Admiral H. P. Jones, president of the court that on the Pacific coast flight the Shenandoah had her original system of eighteen automatic valves.

ELEVEN DIE OF CHOLERA ON ISLANDS

Philippine Army Bases Under Strict Quarantine in Asiatic Plague

[BY CARL AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]
MANILA, Sept. 28.—Eleven deaths, and thirty-eight new cases of Asiatic cholera in the last forty-eight hours was the official record today for the outbreak of the disease in Manila. Since the present infection started, there have been twenty-three deaths and 164 cases recorded at the hospitals of the city. Health authorities, however, do not regard the outbreak as serious compared with several epidemics of a number of years ago.

Head of the Philippine department of the United States Army, late today issued orders that the entire military personnel of the Philippines be inoculated against cholera. This was an extension of orders previously issued for the death of a Philippine Scout soldier and his wife and daughter from cholera, the fifty-seventh Infantry Regiment, stationed at Fort McKinley, was placed under strict quarantine today. Within the next two days the health service expects to complete the inoculation of virtually the entire population of Manila. Quarantine officials issued strict orders today for the examination of all incoming and outgoing steamers.

Jury Agrees on Compromise in Poison Murder

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]
MARION (Ill.) Sept. 28.—Robert Tate and his wife, Ruby, will be sent to the penitentiary as a result of a compromise verdict yesterday by a jury which found them guilty of poisoning Joseph Harrington, her first husband. The sentences, thirty years for Tate and twenty years for Mrs. Tate, have not been passed, but Circuit Judge Hartwell announced they will be pronounced this week. The Tate seemed pleased. Mrs. Tate, who admitted feeding poison to Harrington, while he lay dying in their home, called to Tate, who occupied an upper tier of cells, and he, who said he gave the victim the first dose August 24, 1924, replied cheerfully.

Bids for Paving in Los Angeles County Called

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]
SACRAMENTO, Sept. 28.—The State Highway Commission today called for bids for the paving of nearly seven miles on the Coast Boulevard in Los Angeles county, north of Santa Monica. The paving will be of concrete and twenty feet wide. The project is one previously advertised, the bids having been rejected as being too high. The proposed work will be opened in this city on October 26, next. The proposed paving work will extend from Laticoe Creek to Las Flores Canyon.

TWO KILLED IN PRISON ESCAPE

Nebraska Convict, Guard Die in Fusillade

Plot to Blast Penitentiary Walls Frustrated

Second in Break Attempt Mortally Shot

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]
LINCOLN (Neb.) Sept. 28.—Fred Brown, Omaha chairman kidnaper, and Charles E. Morse, prison guard, are dead, the result of a two-man escape attempt at the Nebraska State prison today. The plot, involving blasting away part of the prison wall, was nipped by observant guards, and Brown was killed and his companion, Roy Smith, probably mortally wounded in the exchange of shots that followed. T. A. Kriger, another guard, was slightly wounded. Brown and Smith, carrying chairs into the prison chapel, were discovered to be armed by a turnkey. He fled up a stairway to obtain a gun, shouting a warning to others. As he returned Smith and Brown were stooping to set off four charges of nitroglycerine against the inner wall of the chapel. Firing, he wounded Smith, and Brown, who was shot down, returning the fire. Here Brown encountered Warden William Fenton and tried to shoot the warden. Brown and Fenton snapped their guns at each other twice, but neither weapon went off. On a third trial Brown's gun discharged, but missed, and he fled to an outer wall, where he was shot down. Morse was killed in the first fusillade from the prisoners, who had army rifles. Smith was captured in the prison kitchen, a bullet through his abdomen and one arm. His arm was amputated, and he was said to be dying tonight. Brown, the "bad man" of the prison, had been watched for several weeks. Warden Fenton said, as an escape plot was feared. Brown was sent up for a kidnapping and keeping chained in a shack west of Omaha two girls. He was out on parole from a robbery sentence at that time. Smith was sentenced from Omaha for robbery, and was wanted in Missouri for a similar offense. The warden believed the arms and explosives were smuggled in in a load of coal.

PEERS BACK OF WOMAN'S WHISKY SHIP

British Aristocracy Said to Have Financed Latest Rum-Running Fiasco

[BY CARL AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]
LONDON, Sept. 28.—Members of the British aristocracy and well-known financiers of both England and the Western Hemisphere were back of the scheme to deliver whisky in America's "rum row" from Alvin, Gloria de Casanova, a much-advertised ship, the General Secret. It is stated in a quarter which is in a position to know the facts, that Casanova's divorced wife of a wealthy Argentine and formerly a British film actress, has announced she merely leased her ship to others and had nothing to do with the rum-running scheme, which came to naught recently when a controversy arose over paying the crew. Although the General Secret frequently has been referred to as a "rum runner," it is stated that the vessel never actually made a trip with rum. The ship, which placed backers planned that she sail ostensibly for Halifax and unload her cargo outside the twelve-mile limit off the American coast upon some real rum runner. Some of the men involved figure in the British "Who's Who," and in the social register.

COULD STAND HERE FOREVER CHEWING ON ONE BITE AND BY HEROIC EFFORT SWALLOWS IT.

FEELS SMALLER BITES MAY GO QUICKER. TAKES SEVERAL GLANCES AT CLOCK AND REALIZES HE'LL NEVER GET THROUGH IN TIME AT THIS PACE.

[RECEIVED DISPATCH]

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—Dexter Nichols, 5 years of age, son of Malcolm M. Nichols, is doing real constructive work for his father in the Boston Mayoralty fight and if he continues until election day Dexter may disprove the theory that there is no real money in politics.

A few days ago Dexter appeared on the street in his neighborhood with a small stock of the "Me for Mal" campaign buttons. Within an hour he had a score of youngsters parading with the campaign slogans pinned up on their breasts. When Dexter returned to his father he had a handful of pennies, explaining that he had disposed of the buttons to his gang for 1 cent each.

place where we were going to fight, most of the way single file. At a deserted place, Martines suddenly pulled out a gun and fired at me, hitting me in the arm.

"I ran behind a tree and Martines dashed back to his house. We fired many times, and once when Martines poked his head back he shot I hit him. That was all there was to it."

The jury took only three ballots to convict him under the old anti-dueling law.

The charge carried with it a sentence of from one to seven years.

WIDOW OF LOWELL IN WILL FIGHT

Removal of Observatory, Established at Flagstaff by Scientist, Opposed

[RECEIVED DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, Sept. 28.—A suit of unusual character has been submitted to the Supreme Court with review of the will of the noted scientist, Percival Lowell. The case is of large importance in its effect upon the continuance at Flagstaff of the work of the Lowell Astronomical Observatory, founded especially for the study of the planet Mars.

The major part of the large estate has been left as a trust to assure continuation of the astronomical work. It now is declared that the trust provisions were in conflict with Arizona laws at the time they were made, in that the trust was of a character not recognized in this State. This defect was cured in a later Arizona legislative session but it is agreed that the Legislature's action could not have retroactive effect.

It is said that Guy Lowell, the trustee, an eastern architect, contemplates removal of the observatory from the hill at Flagstaff, upon which the ashes of the founder also have been placed. The possibility of a change is opposed by Mrs. Constance E. Lowell, the widow, who now is backing an effort to invalidate the will provisions with regard to the invalid trust.

In the event Mrs. Lowell is successful, the wishes of her husband are to be carried out by a new board of directors named by her, with inclusion of Guy Lowell of Brookline, Mass., George Putnam of Boston and Henry S. Fritchett.

It was declared in argument that the will forbids any sale or disposition by the trustee of the observatory property in Arizona. The Superior Court at Flagstaff had decided in favor of the eastern trustee.

"No one for me but a New England girl," says Dan. "I have been in Europe, Asia, South America, Hawaii, Mexico and practically every city in the United States but I am coming back to New England to pick my mate for life."

You Need Frigidaire in Winter
as Well as Summer

WINTER weather is never a safe substitute for refrigeration. Even in zero weather, indoor temperatures frequently rise above the point at which food can be kept without risk of spoiling. Even outdoor winter temperatures often reach the danger point.

But the temperature of Frigidaire is a safe temperature the coldest day in winter or the hottest day in summer.

Frigidaire is governed automatically by the temperature inside the cabinet. It can be neither too warm nor too cold. A uniform and correct temperature is preserved at all times. Foods come out of the Frigidaire cabinet as fresh, wholesome and appetizing as when you put them there.

You have no more ice cards to remember—no more need to stay at home until ice has been delivered. You have automatic, dependable refrigeration every day in the year.

New models now make it possible for you to have Frigidaire complete with cabinet at a new, low price. Or, if you now have a good ice-box, it can be converted into Frigidaire easily and inexpensively. The greatly increased production of Frigidaire assures prompt delivery—and payment may be arranged on convenient terms.

These new models are now on display. Come in and see them.

BANKERS AVERT RESERVE FIGHT

Committee Adopts Policy for Convention

Amendments and Extension
Issues Segregated

Perpetuation of System
Favored by Delegates

(BY A. P. MURPHY WIRE)

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 28.—By adopting a report recommending that the question of extending the charter of the Federal Reserve banks be kept separate from proposals for amending the Federal Reserve Act, and refraining from any discussion of the proposed amendments at this time, the economic policy commission of the American Bankers' Association is believed tonight to have averted the threatened fight over the Federal Reserve Act on the floor of the convention.

This action is understood to have been taken because a canvass of leading delegates by officials of the association disclosed an almost general opinion that the Federal Reserve system should be perpetuated, although there was some difference of opinion as to the method of operations.

SEEK PERPETUATION

The report of the economic policy commission which was presented to the executive council will in turn be transmitted to the resolutions committee to be appointed at the first general session tomorrow. An effort will be made to defer the question of amendments until some later date. The commission also recommended that the association memorialize Congress, asking that, when the question of extending or extension of the charter is taken up, legislation be enacted providing that the new charters run either indefinitely or for ninety-nine years.

"The question of the continuance of the Federal Reserve system, now that it has become the subject of public discussion," the report says, "should be taken up promptly and settled, because continued uncertainty about the future of the system is bound to prove a grave menace to the progress and prosperity of the country."

"Amendments," it continued, "should be considered separately and on their merits. The act confers on the system no unchangeable rights. It has already been amended seventeen times and Congress, under our proposal, would forfeit none of its present rights to amend it further at any time."

SINGLE-PURPOSE MEASURES

The commission expressed the belief that "all such amendments and amendments should be embodied in single-purpose legislative measures and that they should not be combined with provisions attached to bills relating to other matters."

Signers of the report include: Paul M. Warburg of New York, vice-chairman; Walter Lichtenstein of Chicago, secretary; and Walter W. Head of Omaha, former president.

The special taxation committee of the trust company division, through its chairman, Roy C. Good of Chicago, presented a report urging the elimination of the Federal estate and Federal gift taxes, the elimination by the States of inheritance taxes on the personal property of nonresidents and the preparation and ultimate adoption of a uniform State inheritance tax act.

PAIR JAILED AS CHILDREN DIE IN BLAZE

Police Say Four Left to Perish in Beds Following Family Quarrel

(BY A. P. MURPHY WIRE)

EVERETT (Wash.) Sept. 28.—Four children of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Peters of Silver Lake were killed in a fire that destroyed the Peters home. The children, three boys and a girl, were 4, 5, 6 and 7 years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. Peters are held in the County Jail here. The Peterses run a dance pavilion at the lake and are said to be of the California race. The coroner, who has been drinking and quarreling last night after their dance closed, Mrs. Peters is said to have been at the home of a neighbor while Peters returned to his own home and it is assumed, overturned a lamp. Apparently he fled from the building without arousing the children. When neighbors saw the burning structure and reached the scene it was impossible to rescue them. Later this morning Peters denied to Sheriff McCulloch that he had returned to his home. He said he had gone to work to cleaning his dance pavilion and was in the pavilion when he saw that the house was ablaze. A lamp had been left burning in a room of the house.

ARIZONAN SENTENCED IN BANKRUPTCY CASE

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

TUCSON (Ariz.) Sept. 28.—Morris Cohen has received an eighteen months' sentence in Leavenworth for forgery, after a plea of guilty to a Federal charge of concealment of assets in bankruptcy proceedings. Before he went into bankruptcy, according to his own admissions, he placed $10,000 in cash in the hands of a friend, William Isler, another Globe merchant. Isler, who had been indicted with Cohen, was dismissed after testifying concerning the manner in which he had received the money, which he afterward banked. Other charges against Cohen were that he had concealed the ownership of $7500 worth of realty and that he had tried to hide $3500 worth of goods.

LIGHT VOTE ON BUS FRANCHISE

Phoenix Election Indicates Scant Interest in Idea

Small Number Mustered as Favorable

Only 2666 Ballots Cast Out of 7000 Total

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
PHOENIX, Sept. 28.—Though the election called over a proposed twenty-five-year bus franchise, with incidental abandonment of the street-car system, caused much excitement, the contest had its main feature of interest in the fact that only 2666 votes were cast, out of a registered total of about 7000. In addition, from fifty to 100 citizens were turned away from each polling place because they had failed to register for the city election, believing their State registration sufficient. City Manager L. B. Hitchcock asked if the city's residents had gone on a "vote strike" or simply were careless with regard to what was happening in the government of their municipality.

Only 367 votes were mustered to support of the bus idea, though it was favored by the city government and had been well advertised. In general, a feeling was expressed that retrogression would be shown if the street cars should be abandoned. Though apparently not backed by the City Commission, Mayor L. B. Whitney has stated that the city would continue operation of the cars for ninety days after the Sherman interests quit, on October 30, next. Already there is promise of organization of a strong local company, to lease the system from the city, which has bought the material and right of way for $20,000. The City Manager has declared that it would cost about $500,000 to rehabilitate the lines and rolling stock. But spokesmen for the new organization declare that money enough can be made by economies, including one-man cars, to modernize the system within a very few years.

The City Commission also lost on its submission of three bond issues. It had been proposed to spend $35,000 for water-main extensions in new additions and $40,000 on sewerage extensions. The third proposition called for $100,000 for an addition to the city reservoir, which holds only 5,000,000 gallons, or only about half of an average summer day's consumption.

Two InstancesWASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah,
chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, in a statement pledged his support specifically to a series of tax cuts.Senator Smoot did not include any estimates as to the loss of revenue resulting from the different proposals in his scheme, which was prepared for publication in The Nation's Business, the organ of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.SMOOT PROPOSALS
Proposals favored by Senator Smoot together with unofficial estimates obtained from other sources as to their effect on revenue are as follows:
Reduction in surtaxes to a maximum of not more than 25 percent, or preferably 20 per cent—$100,000,000.
Reduction in normal tax rates
now ranging from 3 to 8 per cent to from 1 to 5 per cent—$100,000, which he does not refer specifically—$640,000,000.HITS PUBLICITY

Senator Smoot advocated repeal or modification of the publicity provision of the revenue law. He predicted that the new bill will reach the statute books in time to become effective for the March, 1926, payments of tax on 1925 earnings."There is much talk of raising the original exemption for the head of a family to $5000, on the theory that this would confer a direct benefit on those of small income, who make up approximately 30 per cent of the taxpayers," said Senator

AT THIRD STAGEEra of "Reconstruction" to Begin in MonthMussolini Gloats Over Fall of OppositionThreatens to Destroy Foes by Force if Need BeROME, Sept. 28.—Deputy Parliament, secretary-general of the Fascist party, speaking in Bari, announced that next month the Fascist revolution would enter the third, or "reconstruction," stage."Our regime," he said, "having passed laws for its consolidation and defense, will now begin work on laws of reconstruction with which to complete our revolution by inserting our program in the Italian state. This phase will be perfectly peaceful and the so-called opposition, which has been disturbed, but will be pushed through by force if any one dares to attempt to stand in our way."Almost at the same time Benito Mussolini, speaking in Verceil, exulted over the failure of the opposition, and declared that the Fascist revolution, which has been delayed, is now being completed."What does the opposition amount to?" he asked. "We do not care whether they continue their boycott or return to Parliament. We do not care for their impotent resolutions, their standard falsehoods, their hates? Do they really believe they can halt our impetuous advance with their fantastic paper barricades? They will never succeed."Then, also growing threatening,
he ended:
"It is time all those who, like the sinners described by Dante, walk with their heads turned ward should become convinced that there is nothing they can do because what they desire will return. They had better willingly accept the accomplished fact of our revolution lest they finally be obliged to accept it against their will."These utterances are indicative of a new situation, which gradually has been developing since Parliament went into recess. The Chamber at the last session passed a series of laws to confer upon the Fascist government more power than it had ever enjoyed by a government before.TALKS ON REFORM
The law against secret societies empowers the administration to discharge any government employee belonging to Freemasonry or other secret societies. Another law gives the administration the right to discharge any government employee whose political activities are out of tune with the government. Other laws grant the Cabinet a free hand to amend the Italian civil penal code to legalize the exception regime to which the press is now subjected.All these laws, although very important, were passed almost without dissenting voice as the opposition remained true to its program of boycotting Parliament completely.These laws, merely intended to consolidate and defend the Fascist regime, are, however, a mere prelude to another series of legislative measures which should mark the period of reconstruction. There is much talk both in the Fascist and opposition camps of reforming the Italian constitution of admitting representatives of organized labor to sit in the Senate, of juridically recognizing the Fascist trade unions which would be granted an exclusive monopoly as representatives of the workers' interests and other similar provisions. Though there is much loose talk and even more loose thinking about the reform, the Fascists intend to push through Parliament, it is believed, they are all out and dried in Mussolini's mind so that the next session of the Chamber promises to be an interesting one.LUMBERMAN'S DEATH

vanced in the slaying yesterday of Richard P. Stone, well-known Forest Hill lumber mill operator, and confronted only with meager clues with which to work, investigation of the mystery death was progressing slowly today under the direction of Sheriff Gum of Auburn.
The theory that Stone was slain in a feud with moonshiners because he refused to rent his lumber plant to them was advanced today by K. G. Robertson of Auburn, attorney for the slain lumberman. This theory, however, was refuted by Sheriff Gum, who states that the slaying was the result of a revenge plot.AMERICA IN CONTROL

his return here from an extended visit to the principal diamond markets of Europe, Arthur Everts, jewelry and diamond merchant of Dallas, declared that America controls the diamond market. "Control of the diamond market has passed from England to America," Mr. Everts asserted. "Amsterdam and Antwerp always have been the great diamond-cutting and polishing centers of the world, and are still acknowledged as supreme in the art, but even they cannot sur-was discovered at 11 o'clock yester-

now nearly exhausted men.The fire is blazing over a front

Film From Play
on Prince's VisitLONDON, Sept. 28.—Much indignation has been aroused here by a report that a film version of A.
E. Thomas's play, "Just Suppose," is to be made in America with Richard Barthelmess playing the part of the prince.At the time the play was produced the opinion was expressed that it exploited the visit of the Prince of Wales to America in such a way as to constitute a serious breach of good taste. The price in the film will be an anonymous person, unidentified with any particular country, but the publicity matter for the film, issued here, mentions the fact that the play on which the film is based was inspired by the Prince of Wales's visit to America.It is understood that the film will come to England in due course, but there is a possibility that exhibitors here will decline to book it. Gavazzi King, secretary of the Cinematograph Exhibitors' Association, interviewed on the subject, said he was dead against the idea of such a film being made and was calling a protest to Will Hays.ELECTION IN CANADA

BOXER HELD ON CHARGES OF ASSAULT

Pugilist Declared to Have Beaten Up Son of Former Mayor of Seattle

Frankie Horton Brown, 19-year-old amateur boxer, 1724 Crescent Boulevard, was arrested last night and lodged in the County Jail on suspicion of assault to do great bodily harm.

Brown's arrest followed a complaint by Ole Hansen, former Mayor of Seattle, that the amateur boxer struck his son, Theodore, on the head with a club after the latter came to the assistance of Samuel Rothstein Saturday night, when Brown attempted to beat him up.

According to Mr. Hansen's report to the constable's office he is young Rothstein's guardian. Rothstein, who is also an amateur boxer, arrived here recently from New York and met the Brown youth. Brown, it is said, was jealous of the attention the Hansens were bestowing upon young Rothstein, and recently invaded the Hansen residence at 121 South New Hampshire street in an effort to get at Samuel.

Saturday night Robert Hansen, Theodore Hansen, and Rothstein, in company with some other boys went to the home of Wilfred Butt, 423 Mesa Road, Santa Monica. While the house was full of guests Brown is said to have intruded and to have attempted to choke Rothstein. Theodore Hansen came to his assistance and was knocked down. The other youths chased Brown. When they returned they found a pool of blood and a club in the yard. Brown is asserted to have returned to the house, taken Theodore Hansen into the back yard and struck him over the head.

Young Hansen was not found until 2 o'clock in the following afternoon when he was identified by a nurse in the Martin Hospital at Santa Monica. He was picked up several miles from the scene of the assault in a dazed condition. Surgeons state the youth is suffering from concussion of the brain and a deep scalp wound. Brown's bail was set at $5000.

PORT WORK SURPRISES INSPECTOR

Representative Dempsey Sees Great Possibility in Development

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
LONG BEACH, Sept. 28.—Expressing surprise at the magnitude of the Los Angeles Harbor and the possibilities of Long Beach's port project now under way, Representative Wallace Dempsey, chairman of the Rivers and Harbors Committee of Congress, was enthusiastic following his arrival here today on a four-day inspection of harbor work.

With Congressman Lineberger and Nathan L. Strong of Pennsylvania and local port officials, Mr. Dempsey was taken for a preliminary view of the Los Angeles-Long Beach Harbor. Although this is Congressman Dempsey's first trip West, he lost no time in grasping the port work already done and under way.

"You have the most ideally situated harbor for the development of the vast Mexican and South American trade," he declared. "Only a few years ago the shipping of the Atlantic and Pacific were things apart. However, with the lesson of unification taught by the Panama Canal it strikes me that you have glimpsed your opportunity for a real port. Today we are working together because of the needs of each other."

The other members of the Congressional party, Representatives Strong of Pennsylvania and Missouri, Kindred of New York and Duffie of Alabama, were expected to arrive later in the day and to be guests of the city until Thursday. Tomorrow the committee will be taken on a combined automobile and boat ride through the harbor district and in the afternoon will inspect the Newport Harbor.

LAST RITES CONDUCTED FOR PIONEER

Oliver James Stough, Who Saw Service in Mexican War, Buried in San Diego

Oliver James Stough, Southern California pioneer, Mexican War veteran and at one time owner of thousands of acres of land in the San Fernando Valley, who died at his San Diego home last Friday, was buried yesterday afternoon, according to dispatches from the southern city. Funeral services were conducted from the Veterans' Home at 2140 Fourth street, San Diego.

The pioneer was 87 years of age at the time of his death. During his life he witnessed many events now recorded in American history and numbered many nationally known men as his friends, among them Judge Elbert H. Gary, Marvin Hewitt and former Presidents Grant and Wilson.

Born in Ohio when that State was still largely unsettled, Stough learned the arts of the pioneer and at the age of 18 years took his place among the men who volunteered in the war with Mexico. He had many stirring adventures while in the service. In 1884 he came to San Diego for a visit and returned three years later to make it his permanent home. He was first president of the San Diego Savings Bank, now the San Diego Trust and Savings Bank.

The Stough property in San Fernando Valley was located near Burbank. It was purchased in parcels by him and finally grew to a domain of 6000 acres, which he highly prized. At one time it was planned to erect a university on the ground, which was regarded as one of the best sites in the valley.

OPERA STAR RUSHING TO WEST COAST

Claudio Muzio on Final Lap of 8000-Mile Trip to Sing in California

Claudio Muzio

In order to appear with the California Grand Opera Company in Los Angeles and San Francisco Claudio Muzio, soprano of the Chicago Opera Company, is making an almost unbroken trip of 8000 miles.

Leaving New York yesterday after stepping from the vessel which brought her from Buenos Aires, the diva will arrive in San Francisco Friday night and "La Tosca," Saturday night. The schedule of these operas in the northern city was changed when Muzio cabled that she had missed the boat and her arrival would be delayed.

Mme. Muzio, in "La Tosca," which she will sing in the New Olympic Auditorium, Grand avenue and Eighteenth street, one week from tomorrow night, made one of her greatest successes.

So profound was the impression created by the artist in Buenos Aires that she was honored by President Alvear and accompanied to the box of the Prince of Wales, a visitor there, to receive his congratulations.

Special ballets have been arranged for "Aida" which Muzio will sing October 10 and "The Love of Three Kings" which will close the season, October 12, with Muzio in the leading role. Theodore Kioskoff, "Romance of the Infants," which required months to perfect and cost $68,000, will be given its first presentation at the close of "The Love of Three Kings."

GIRL FINDS SELF DEAD MAN'S BRIDE

Government Asks 'Divorce' for Her to Avoid Payment of Pension

(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

VIENNA, Sept. 28.—The judicial authorities here are seeking to annul the marriage of a young girl named Marguerite, because it has turned out that she married a dead man.

Marguerite, it appears, obtained an authorization in 1920 to wed Franz Heirach, an Austrian soldier, whom the Bolsheviks were holding a prisoner in Tomsk in Siberia. The ceremony was consequently performed by proxy, the bridegroom being represented by one of his friends, with whom Marguerite exchanged vows and rings in due form.

It has now come to light that Marguerite's "husband" had died several months before the wedding ceremony took place in Vienna. Neither she, nor Franz's representative was aware of this. The Austrian government has taken steps to "divorce" her from the dead man so as not to be compelled to pay his "widow" a pension.

Film Comedy Producer Hurt in Horse Fall

MacK Sennett is rapidly recovering from a dislocated shoulder suffered last Thursday when the horse he was riding lost its footing on a sharp turn in the riding ring at the Griffith Park Riding Academy, falling with its rider.

The motion-picture producer was warming up his horse preparatory to riding out to his ranch in Griffith Park where scenes for his comedies were being photographed. The accident occurred at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Sennett was rushed to the hospital where X-ray examinations revealed that his left shoulder blade had been dislocated.

Drs. Griffith, Chappel and Phillips, who are in attendance on the film man, state that he will be able to return to the studio in a few days.

In the meantime studio conferences are being carried on from a desk and telephone rigged up at the side of the patient's bed at the hospital.

Warning Issued Against Rabbit Farm Prospects

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

STOCKTON, Sept. 28.—The Stockton Merchants' Association has issued a warning to the public against the investment of money in so-called rabbit farms. "These promotions are rampant throughout the State at present, it is said, and many people are led to believe that they can make fortunes through the sale of rabbit skins to fur manufacturers."

The announcement states that fur buyers are not handling domestic skins for the reason that they cannot obtain them in large quantities. They do not buy in less than 5000 or 10,000 pelts quantities. Various Stockton persons have been approached during the past week by rabbit farm promoters.

SUPERVISOR DIES (EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

PRESBOTT (ARIZ.) Sept. 28.—Albert M. Jones, a member of the Yavapai County Board of Supervisors, died of heart disease at his home in this city. He served in the war with Spain and was a departmental officer of the United States Army. Jones was one of the active members of the Arizona constitutional convention and served several terms in the State Legislature.

The Most Complete Study of 81 Major Markets Ever Compiled

In this important new book markets are no longer a matter of vague speculation. They have passed from the phantom to the tangible through the first successful assembly of all important characteristics that have a bearing upon the economical distribution and wide consumption of advertised products.

In its 348 pages of authoritative information about the 81 principal American markets this book reveals and reviews in detail the merchandising possibilities among a population of over 59,000,000 people, or more than half of the population of the United States.

The result is that manufacturers, sales and advertising executives are now able to deal with these great markets in terms of facts as they have never known them before. They can learn at a glance, for all or part of the 81 principal markets (all markets are analyzed and tabulated alike) the population, numbers of families, dwellings, male and female buyers over 15 years of age, automobile registrations and the numbers of wholesalers and retailers in 25 lines of business in every town of 1,000 population or more in each market.

This book is an authority. Under the supervision of the Director of the Bureau of the Census at Washington and special population analysis has produced the population characteristics that are used. These figures include population statistics up to January 1, 1925, in accordance with the manner in which they are computed by the Bureau of the Census. This analysis includes nearly 100 cities and towns.

The characteristics of wholesale and retail distribution, automobile registrations for all 81 Markets have been compiled by R. L. Polk & Co., statistical experts and publishers of over 500 city directories.

The gratis distribution of this important and useful book is limited to those who are directly interested in advertising and merchandising upon a basis embracing several or more markets, in their relationship to newspaper circulation.

HOW TO BUY STREET BONDS

Pick a Responsible House

The deserved popularity of the Street Bond is due to the pioneer houses dealing in this security who for years fought to bring it into favor.

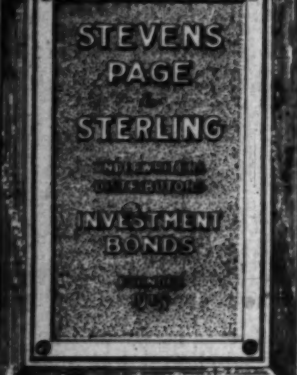

It is only logic then to assume that an established house of many years' standing knows more about the proper handling of Street Bonds than the operators of the "in again out again" variety, and is the house to buy from.

BOND QUOTATIONS

Trading Lights

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Unusually heavy trading in the money market with the approach of month-end settlements and the recurrent predictions of an early increase in the Federal Reserve discount rate were reflected in the lower trend of bond prices today.

Trading was extremely light and concentrated selling pressure was lacking, but offering of all classes of bonds found buyers only at price concessions.

Quiet liquidation of Liberty Bonds emphasized the extent to which the current money situation is influencing the trend of bond prices. Sensitive to changes in the credit outlook, the government obligations continued to drift lower today, the Liberty 3 1/2's breaking under par for the first time this year.

The railroad list proved vulnerable to profit-taking which was directed against the speculative issues. Florida, West and North Carolina broke more than 3 points and substantial losses were listed by Seaboard adjustment 5's, Denver and Rio Grande Western 5's, Chicago and Alton 3 1/2's, and East 4's of 3525 and Frisco adjustment 5's.

Little activity developed in foreign bonds, however, the $100,000,000 Bavarian loan being considerably oversubscribed within a few hours. Two issues of bonds will be offered tomorrow for the Walworth Company. New England manufacturers of plumbing equipment and other machinery. One issue of $1,000,000 twenty-year first mortgage 5's will be offered at 98 1/2 per cent to yield 6.10 per cent, and another issue of $2,500,000 ten-year 5 1/2 per cent debentures will be offered at 98 to yield 6.75 per cent.

Following are quotations for the New York Stock Exchange and the American Bond Market, as of 10:30 a. m. Sept. 28, 1925.

NEW YORK CURE

Prices Rule Lower

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Prices of curb securities were carried to lower levels today in unusually heavy selling which resulted in sharp recessions in several issues. Much of the earlier losses, however, were regained into rally.

After touching a low of 17, in contrast to a high of 109 last month, Engineers' Gold recovered from steady selling pressure and closed at 27 1/2 for a net loss of 3 1/2 points. Weakness developed in Victor Talking Machine, which lost 5 1/2 points on the day, and Southern Dairies issues and American-Hawaiian Steamships also were affected by liberal offerings. Miller Rubber lost 13 points to 219. Baking issues reflected the strength of the stocks on the "big board," being regained into rally.

Continental Baking B and Purit Baker B each gathering more than a point.

Liquidation appeared also in the rubber group, Nizer Corporation A and B closing 3 points lower. Green stock on the "big board" day at 15, dropped to 14 in early trading, closing at 9 for a net loss of 6 points.

Public utilities were mixed. American Light and Traction closed 2 points lower and Commonwealth United stock lost 1 1/2, but United Light and Traction moved up two points and Southeastern Power and Light moved up 1 1/2. Oil stocks generally were firm. Humble lost 1 point and Vacuum and Standard Oil of Kentucky each closed a point or so lower.

The following information has been summarized by Mr. Howard Cooley, President of the Company, from his letter dated September 26, 1925:

BUSINESS OF THE WALWORTH COMPANY was established in 1842 under the firm name of Walworth & Nason, which introduced the steam heating industry into America and established the first factory in the United States for manufacture of fittings and valves.

WALWORTH COMPANY is about to acquire the business and assets of the Kelly & Jones Company, which produces a complete line of valves and fittings, and in addition has facilities for steel castings.

STOCK PURCHASE WARRANTS: The Series "A" Debentures will bear stock purchase warrants non-detachable for one year unless released by the Company, entitling the holder of each $1000 Debenture to subscribe at any time on or before January 1, 1936, for 10 shares of the Company's Common Stock, at $30 per share, subject to reduction.

EARNINGS: The consolidated earnings statements of Walworth Company and subsidiaries, including the properties about to be acquired, which with minor exceptions have been audited by Messrs. Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery for the period of 8 1/2 years from January 1, 1917, to June 30, 1925, show average annual net profits amounting to $2,113,077 after deducting adequate depreciation, but before interest paid and Federal Taxes, equivalent to 3.14 times the combined annual interest charges on the First Mortgage Bonds and Debentures to be presently outstanding.

ASSETS: The consolidated balance sheet as of June 30, 1925, prepared by Messrs. Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery, adjusted to give effect to the present financing and appraisal of plant assets of Walworth Company as of December, 1921, and of Kelly & Jones Company as of August, 1925, by Day & Zimmerman, Inc., showed total net assets, excluding good-will and similar intangible values and deducting all liabilities except First Mortgage Bonds and Debentures, amounting to over $26,800,000 as compared to a total funded debt of $11,000,000 to be presently issued.

DROP IN COPPER
PRICES TRACEDSale of Second-Hand Metal Factor in SlumpVolume of Transactions Is Reported LightReal Condition of Industry
Continues Sound

BY CHARLES F. WILKE

(Editor, The Market Journal)

Bear raids, speculative sales and second-hand copper have been able to depress the price of copper during the past week to 14-1/2 to 8-1/2, although but little volume is reported to be moving or available at that price. Unfortunately, the public is largely influenced by quotations rather than conditions and this drop has caused some misapprehension regarding the copper situation. The actual fundamental conditions of low surplus, curtailed production and increasing foreign sales have not changed and the position of copper is better today than at any time during the war.

August saw a greater evidence of the curtailed production policy in the United States than any of the previous months of this year, dropping from 76,325 tons in July to 52,461 tons in August. There was also a drop of 400 tons from Mexico, an increase of 700 tons from Canada, a drop of 800 tons from Chile and Peru. The net result making the total drop about 10,000 tons from Belgium Congo, equivalent to the United States decrease.

PRODUCTION STEADY

While the total world production for the month was 121,144 tons the high production of January, February and March, 1935, has brought the average for the month for the year up to 129,558 tons as against last year's average of 121,625 tons. However, the present rate of production is about equivalent to that of 1934.

Foreign transactions are reported to be slowing up somewhat, thus contributing to the price depression. This has been due to the unexpected appearance of second-hand copper being quoted under the market. Domestic increases, however, have offset the lowered foreign volume, as the announcement of the big decrease in surplus stocks brought the domestic buyers into the market.

The conditions of the domestic market will soon be required to take a definite buying stand.

RYAN OPTIMISTIC

John D. Ryan, chairman of the board of directors of the Anaconda Copper Company recently said: "The United States today is using as much copper as the whole world did before the war. The exports of copper from North and South America to Europe this year will be the greatest in the history of the industry."

"The production of copper the first six months this year reached a record of all time. It was all used and a very substantial reduction in the surplus that was on hand at the first of the year has taken place. Lead and zinc are already very much better in price and copper has shown an improvement in the price of the latter metal."

"While we do not feel that we have participated in the general prosperity to the great extent as these facts might indicate, still the copper, brass and zinc business is good, not only in the United States but in Europe. The thing that is most satisfactory in the situation today is that we find production is not only increased, but the exportation has overtaken and slightly exceeded production for the past six months."

EUROPE ACTIVE

"All the larger countries of Europe are carrying on big schemes of electrification. In France, Italy and Germany hydroelectric development is taking place wherever there is available power and a market for the current. The Italian railroads are being rapidly electrified. On a trip into Italy for eight hours' continuous travel I was on an electrified railroad. The French are very rapidly electrifying their most important lines. The important Swiss railroads also are being electrified, and in Germany extensive electrification is taking place."

"But the most important development in these countries is the electrification of the industries and the household. England is somewhat behind in the electrification of its industries. During the war, England was operating its industries on a very economical basis but she has just begun to adopt the modern electrical labor-saving methods."

"The temporary price depression cannot stand in face of the following conditions: The lowest surplus plus in the history of the industry, the greatest domestic use of copper in peace-time history, an increasing foreign demand in bringing the European countries back to their correct relative position, a production that is actually less than the amount that is being sold and what is still more important, more sensible marketing policies on the part of the copper producers."

Sharp Advance
in Imports of Raw Material

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Commerce Department figures in an analysis of the country's foreign trade for August and previous months of this year disclosed today a sharp increase and particularly in imports of raw materials.

For the eight months ending with August, the United States imported $1,086,851,000 worth of raw materials out of a total import for the same period of $2,703,229,000. During the same months of 1934 the raw material imports were valued at $890,652,000 out of a total import of $2,332,727,000.

For the eight months including August, 1935, the total exports were $3,082,847,000, while during the same period of 1934 they were $2,697,021,000. Manufactured goods constituted the heaviest item during both years and for the 1935 period they amounted to $1,233,229,000.

MORE COME FOR SESSION AT CAPITAL

Europeans numbering 155 arrive in New York for Parliamentary Meeting.

(BY A. P. MONT WIRE) NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Arrival of European delegates for the inter-parliamentary union conference in Washington reached the peak today when the steamship Caronia brought 155 foreign representatives, including four members of the British Parliament, and delegates from the Scandinavian and Central European countries. Government agents and police guarded the arriving delegates closely as they did upon previous arrivals, including the Italian delegation, which reached here yesterday, and the Irish representatives, who came a few days previously. A crowd of approximately 200 men and women tried to reach the pier as the Caronia docked, but were turned back by mounted police. They carried several banners. One bore the inscription "Down with British Imperialism," another "We demand unrestricted immigration to the United States," and a third, "Stop persecution of foreign born." Some of the banners were hauled down by the police.

Beer Baron's Jailor Bribing Tale Verified

(BY A. P. MONT WIRE) CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Two subordinate officials of the Cook County Jail today confirmed in part the testimony of Terence Druggan, youthful beer baron, that Druggan named out his bribes to lighten the tedium of a year's jail sentence for violating a prohibition law "padding" inflection on one of his brewees. Henry Foy, secretary to Capt. Wesley Westbrook, dismissed warden of the jail, said he received $5000 in bribes for himself and named 14000 more to Westbrook for allowing Druggan and Frank Lake, his partner, extra privileges including "chicks out." Foy Thompson, former assistant warden, said he accepted $2000 a month for accompanying Druggan on some eighty or ninety yard visits to the dentist's office. Druggan elaborated his previous revelations of the hearing before Federal Judge Williamson, bringing new names and sums of money into the remarkable stories of wholesale bribery of jail officials.

Warden Fined for Releasing Man Too Soon

(REUTERS DISPATCH) PHOENIX, Sept. 26.—Superior Court Judge Phelps today decided that paroles may not be given Arizona convicts short of the dates of their minimum sentences. This opinion was manifested by him in a fine of $50 placed upon Warden R. R. Sims of the State penitentiary, for assented contempt of court, in having liberated Jimmie Douglas before his minimum sentence had expired. Douglas had been paroled August 25 by the State Board of Pardons and Paroles, with about thirty days to go on his term. He already has made under construction, and who recently have been granted municipal franchises by Frederick, Robert and Cordell.

GAS TO BE DISTRIBUTED (REUTERS DISPATCH) FREDERICK (Okla.) Sept. 26. Distribution over several counties of southwestern Oklahoma of natural gas produced in the Sayre and Willow districts is soon to be made by Moseley & Myers of Tulsa, who already have made under construction, and who recently have been granted municipal franchises by Frederick, Robert and Cordell.

La Temporada Interrumpe las Operaciones de Rescate. NEW LONDON (Connecticut), Septiembre 26.—El viento y las olas han organizado el asalto contra la flota de rescate, que hoy se propone poner a flote el submarino S-51, que recibió la noche del viernes un golpe de ariste del vapor City of Rome, a la latitud de 41 grados 15 minutos y 30 segundos, y se fue a pique. La fuerza ha estado el vendaval y tan alto el oleaje, que hubo que interrumpir los trabajos hasta que se calma la mar. ## PRISON GASTRONOMY

BY ALMA WHITTAKER

I am afraid they are favoring feminine appetites at San Quentin.

It looks suspiciously like an unfair sex privilege.

An afternoon paper has been printing a story by a convict who describes the two meals a day

given to the male inmates as the

"dink" and "intermediate diet," and he hurls considerably on the point that the men are "always hungry."

A morning paper in discussing conditions likewise remarks:

"Where in some cases men live in hell in San Quentin; where they go without food rather than eat

the filth that is thrown at them

" etc.

I don't tally at all with anything I saw in the women's ward.

I spent two days there not so long ago—and quite a while in the prison kitchen with Mrs. Campbell, the Santa Ana woman who was shot by a guard. I ate some of the food and found it was not so abundant as they did not know how to use it all up.

The women had to do as the men, and so was rich,

luscious butter and all sorts of vegetables.

Quantities of hot fresh bread was delivered from the prison bakery

while I was there. The women used to get a little of the vegetables and the chickens, made the bread and butter, milked the cows, and all the women had to do was to prepare the meals.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

A frazzled cooker hath many chances, chief of which being that one can go off and leave it with the comfortable knowledge that nothing will boil away or get burned up.

A serviceable amateur one can be made at home. An old cabin

one and one-half feet deep is best,

but any nice strong wooden box of those dimensions will do, if it has a tight fitting lid.

Next secure a generous supply of excelsior—fine wood shavings,

usually used for packing breakables. Set two kettles or stew pans slightly apart in the box—

preferably the kind with swing handles. Then pack the excelsior tightly round them, beneath them,

above them, between them—compressed as tightly as possible, and so that the pans are completely surrounded when it when the box is closed.

The excelsior in the lid can be kept in place with excelsior bands of webbing or a tightly laced piece of burlap. With care in removing the pans, the excelsior in the box will remain in place, leaving two compartments.

Things put in the excelsior cooker must be actually boiling when transferred from the stove, and the lid promptly closed down tightly.

In this way porridge, potatoes,

most kinds of boiled vegetables,

steaks, rice, beans, macaroni, etc.,

will cook excellently and keep pip-ping hot for three or four hours.

Porridge put in the cooker over-

That bootleggers are using wares in the hopes of outwitting

the vigilance of enforcement offiserging to police, the arrest of Maurice Lapidus, 16 years of age, of 3036 Sixth avenue.

The boy was taken into custody

when he rang the door bell of a rooming-house at 249 West Fifteenth street, and walked into the arms of Sergeant Simpson, who had just raided the place and arrested

Gilbert Stout for possession of twenty-six pints of liquor.

"What do you want?" Sergeant

Simpson asked the youth, who was carrying a suitcase.

"Here's the stuff," the boy replied. The suitcase was opened and found to contain two gallons of moonshine, the officers reported.

Sergeant Simpson seized the liquor and the automobile the boy used to make the delivery. The boy was turned over to Juvenile authorities.

The rooming-house was raided

when officers reported they found a trap game in progress. The liquor was reported to have been found underneath the floor in a

PLAN TO SPEED UP QUAKE FUND

Effort Being Made to Raise Sum Without Delay

County Donates More Than Half of Quota Set

Forty-two Outside Towns Yet to Make Report

Plans for the final wind-up of the Santa Barbara Emergency Relief campaign are now rapidly moving forward at Chamber of Commerce headquarters under the direction of S. Poulter Morris, campaign manager.

"In an effort to speed up the raising of funds and meet our quota without further delay, we have decided upon an intensive drive for the concluding period," said Mr. Morris. "We are going to give special attention to such business houses and individuals as have up to the present time overlooked the Santa Barbara matter and also to check up on the contributions already made to determine whether some firms cannot be induced to increase their donations to an extent commensurate with the more generous contributions made by others. We will enter upon this clean-up campaign as soon as all our plans have been perfected."

The total contributions by Los Angeles county, including the city of Los Angeles, up to date is $161,516, or just under 58 per cent of the county's quota, according to the records of Mayor Morris. Of this amount, the city has contributed $158,941 and the county outside $2,575.

"The county's total quota is $278,500," said Mr. Morris. "The quota of the city of Los Angeles being $164,886. The amount thus far raised by the city is about 58 per cent of its quota, or a little more than 10 per cent of the county's quota as a whole." Mr. Morris added that there are still some forty-two of the outside towns in Los Angeles county that have not as yet reported, and suggested that he thought it likely that eventual returns from these will swell the total somewhat.

"There are about ninety towns, big and little, throughout the county to which quotas were allotted," he said. "Forty-eight of them have reported, some of them having already raised their full quotas, but the rest are still to be heard from. I have reason to believe that efforts are being made in these places to meet their quotas and that eventually the fund will be considerably augmented from this source."

ROBERT McCULLY'S MOTHER WANTS HIM

Mrs. Hattie McCully of Oklahoma City yesterday appealed to Sheriff Traylor for aid in locating her son, Robert Elder McCully, 18 years of age, missing since October 11, 1931. The youth is believed to be in Los Angeles. Mrs. McCully sent word she is ill and will gladly pay the youth's transportation home if he will come.

Face and neck covered with eruption

Resinol cleared it away

Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 26:—"I think Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment are wonderful—I was a sufferer from skin trouble and I know what they did for me. I had only a few pimples at first, but this infection soon spread until they covered my face and neck and made me look disgraceful. They irritated me so I could scarcely keep my fingers off them. I tried various treatments, but none gave more than temporary relief. A friend recommended Resinol and I bought a jar of ointment and a cake of soap. After the second application of each, the itching stopped and when I had used the Resinol products for five weeks, there was not a trace of the trouble left." (Signed) Arthur Smith, 469 Hudson Ave.

IDENTIFIES "OH MY" ROBBERY SUSPECT

Julie Blake

ACCUSED IN BURGLARY CHARGE UP

Asserted Thief Who Voiced Lady-like Alarm When Disturbed Given Hearing

An asserted burglar who says, "Oh, my," when greatly agitated, was the subject of inquiry yesterday in Justice Forbes' court, at the preliminary hearing of M. T. Willholte.

Miss Julie Blake, 14 years of age, testified she came home the evening of the 14th inst., to 227 Kalamazoo street, saw the front door had been broken open, peeked in and saw a burglar, his arms full of loot. He dropped the plunder when she made a noise and ran out past her, making the lady-like exclamation as he did so.

Though greatly frightened, she followed him to the street and saw him get into a car of which she took the number. Police are said to have connected Willholte with this car and Miss Blake yesterday identified him as the burglar. Willholte will present his defense Thursday. He is represented by Attorneys Phillips and Kendall; Dep. Dist. Atty. Aggeler conducts the prosecution.

GLENDORA'S EXECUTIVE NEAR DEATH

Mayor Ragan Struck Down by Auto in Front of Home and Recovery Doubtful

GLENDORA, Sept. 28.—Mayor Charles Ragan, head of the Glendora city government for the past six years, and one of the best-known men in the San Gabriel Valley, was probably mortally injured today when he was struck by an automobile in front of his home. He suffered a double compound fracture of one leg and many cuts and bruises, and as he is 76 years of age he is not expected to survive.

Mayor Ragan was talking with friends who were in a parked car on Aloha avenue, opposite his home. He turned and started back for his house when a car driven by A. H. Despensier of Los Angeles struck and knocked him down. He was taken to Covina Hospital.

Mayor Ragan came here more than thirty-five years ago from Missouri and for many years operated a large citrus ranch. He retired several years ago.

Despensier was questioned by the police, but was not held, as it was declared the accident was unavoidable on his part.

Police Protect and Prosecute Slot Machines

What with trying to keep slot machines from preying on the public, and members of the public from preying on slot machines, the police had a busy day yesterday.

Felix Collier, of 1076 Euclid street, was arrested by Detective Lieutenants Jones and Edwards at a soft-drink establishment at 239 North Main street, charged with violating a special section of the Penal Code protecting slot machines, telephones and other coin-accepting apparatus. Collier was accused of having 2000 slugs in his possession, half in nickel size, the other half in quarter size, which he had had made at a rubber-stamp store and was selling at $15 a thousand.

Trial was set in Police Judge Pope's court for 2 p.m. today.

A slot-machine test case came before Police Judge Chambers when Sam Levitt of 429 South Main street was accused of operating a game of chance by having a slot machine. He pleaded not guilty and bail was set at $100.

LIQUOR INVESTIGATOR HELD

Capt. Bond Backs Story of Informant and Asserts Office Will Ask Inquiry

W. J. Mosher, 49 years of age, formerly Federal dry agent, informant for Capt. Bond of the Sheriff's office dry squad, and a well-known investigator, was arrested by the police yesterday and charged with violation of the Wright Act. The arresting officers say they found three gallons of moonshine whiskey in Mosher's automobile and took him into custody just as he was about to drive away with it. Mosher, through Capt. Bond, charged that the liquor was planted in his car and said he was on his way to the Sheriff's office with the liquor when placed under arrest.

After being booked at the Central Station by Detective Lieutenant Lucas and his men, Mosher was released on $500 bond and went to Capt. Bond's office to make his report.

Investigated and saw that there was a bottle of liquor in it. He then started the car to bring the liquor to my office, when he was arrested. I have every confidence in Mosher and believe his story," Capt. Bond said.

TERMED RELIABLE MAN

According to Capt. Bond, Mosher is a reliable officer. A thorough investigation will be demanded by him and all the facts surrounding the arrest will be sought by his office, Mr. Bond declared.

The arrest was made in front of a rooming-house at 143 1/2 North Spring street. According to Mosher's story to Capt. Bond, he parked the car there at 9 o'clock yesterday morning.

"Mr. Mosher tells me that immediately after parking his car he came to my office. I kept him waiting here until nearly 12 o'clock. He left shortly after noon and went to the City Hall, where he met Police Judge Sheldon's mother, who is an official in the W.C.T.U. He was seen by two of my men walking with Mrs. Sheldon down Broadway. That was almost two hours later. This seems to account for his time pretty well. After leaving Mrs. Sheldon Mosher went to get his car. On getting into the seat he discovered a burglar sack in the back seat. He called over the phone saying that a man had just delivered a gallon of liquor to a rooming-house on North Spring street. The informant gave the number of a Ford coupe. The call was received by the office man in charge of the phones, who made a regular report and then handed the information to the first liquor crew to come in. This call was handed to us and we went out to North Spring street and located the car. We waited till a man came and got into the car. As he started to drive away we placed him under arrest. He said his name was Mosher, so we notified Capt. Bond." Detective Lucas declared.

He also added that a number of previous reports had been received at the Central Police Station giving the number of Mosher's car as the car seen delivering liquor.

Capt. Bond said yesterday that

DIVORCE FOR F.O.B. BRIDE

She Flashed Wedding But Balked at Paying for Meeting Husband

"An 'F.O.B.' bride," observed Judge Guerin yesterday as he granted Mrs. Estelle Bateau a divorce from Hugh Valle Bateau.

"I paid the expenses of the wedding," she said. "But when he asked me to advance him $50 he owed a friend for introducing him to me, I balked. And then when I came home one evening after we had been married less than a month and found him there with another girl, I left."

"This man got a bride, f.o.b. matrimonial bark, and then lost his cargo by carelessness," Judge Guerin commented.

ROBINSON AT SAN DIEGO

Assistant Secretary of Navy Visits North Island; West Coast Dirigible Base Tentative, He Says

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 28.—Theodore D. Robinson, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, today began an inspection of the naval establishments at North Island within twenty-five minutes after his arrival from San Pedro at 10 o'clock this morning in an H-14 flying boat.

The landing of the seaplane at a runway near the fleet air shops was followed by a colorful military ceremony. A detachment of marines formed a guard of honor and two long lines of blue-jackets made a lane through which the naval official passed as he came ashore.

Bugles blared and the North Island saluting batteries roared as Rear-Admiral Ashley Robertson, commandant of the Eleventh Naval District, greeted the visitor.

Secretary Robinson was taken to the North Island home of Admiral Robertson to refresh himself after the air trip, and within a few minutes was ready to begin his inspection. Commanding officers of all units now in San Diego, all wearing naval full dress, formed a line outside of the Administration Building. The officers were introduced by Admiral Robertson.

SILENT ON MITCHELL

During his trip around the island, following the ceremonies, the Secretary found time to reply to some questions by newspaper men. There are no additional plans for a dirigible base here, other than have been announced, and matters concerning the project are in a tentative stage, according to Secretary Robinson. Asked if he had anything to say concerning the controversy raging around the charges made by Col. Mitchell, the Secretary said:

"Not a word; not a single word."

The Secretary announced that he expected to leave by plane at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon for Santa Barbara.

HAWAII HOP HEROES RETURN TO SAN DIEGO

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 28.—Three members of the crew of the P.N. No. 1 seaplane, which was all but given up for lost, as a result of a forced landing on the Hawaiian flight, arrived home today from Los Angeles by train and were busy this morning relating the details of their harrowing experience to their comrades of North Island naval aviation. The men are G. G. Stantz, chief radio man; S. R. Pope and William M. Bowlin, aviation pilots.

At the request of Capt. Stanford E. Moses, commander of the Hawaiian flight, the men wore the gold medals presented to them by the City of San Francisco. The airman exhibited, in addition to the medals, pens, rings, watches and pins given to them by various cities and organizations. All were of one accord, that they had been royally treated both in Honolulu and in California cities, following their rescue.

The three men will leave North Island tonight for San Pedro, where they will take the first available government transport for the east coast. They have not been

FORWARD FUND NEED CITED

Enormous Sums Being Spent by Other Interests Pointed Out in Plea as Last Week of Drive Opens

Necessity of bringing to a successful conclusion the fund-raising campaign of the Southern California Forward Movement, which closes next Tuesday at noon, was pointed out in a statement issued by the Executive Committee of the organization yesterday.

"The response to date has been activity in Southern California," the statement declared. "If all will come to a realization that each should invest in the movement according to his business or professional interest, the fund will be fully raised."

One million dollars in the next twelve months will start the tide of tourism and prosperity in the right direction.

"One community about half the size of Southern California is spending close to $10,000,000 annually for advertising where we have been spending $500,000. The advertising companies that take people to Europe are spending great sums. This means that Southern California must increase its advertising expenditure or yield its place of preeminence."

BRIDE FOR ONLY THREE MONTHS

MARTIN MURDER ACTION DUE
Grand Jury Will Be Asked to Indict Night Watchman, Once in Custody, as Slayer of Sisters

Once again the name of C. S. Stone, aged and eccentric night watchman, was linked with the fendish murders of Nina and May Martin yesterday when Dist. Atty. Keyes announced that he will ask the county grand jury next Thursday to return an indictment charging Stone with the double crime.

The results point to one man, and murder indictment against Stone. The details of the investigation could not be obtained from the District Attorney. These, he said, will be heard only by the grand jurors and by the judge and jury that will be chosen to try Stone.

Nina, 8 years of age, and her sister, May, 12, disappeared from the home of their stepfather, Paul Buss, 2854 Mansfield avenue, about 6 p.m. on August 22, 1924. For many weeks police searched the slums and fields in the Baldwin Hills, but could find no trace of the missing sisters.

Six months later, on February 4, last, Leo B. Saulque, a rancher, was seeking a recently leased field about a mile from the home of the missing girls, when he discovered the two decomposed bodies. The girls, an autopsy showed, had been the victims of a brutal attack.

STONE PUT IN CUSTODY
A few days after the discovery, when the Glen Airy district, in which the children resided, had

Western co-eds use more cosmetics than their eastern sisters and, though they have splendid personalities, their dress does not express their individualities, according to Mary Sinclair Crawford, new dean of women at the University of Southern California, who came here from Carleton College, Minnesota.

"The western co-eds," she said, "have splendid personalities, but they do not express their individualities in their dress, but seem to buy their taste ready-made. In the East sport clothes are always worn on the campus, but girls here seem to 'dress' more. I must confess also they use more cosmetics."

Co-education, the new dean believes, is the best form of education, separate education of men and women being artificial. She said of the college men: "I find them very intellectual in class, and he has a great knowledge of current events."

Other witnesses, all possessing vital information declared to connect Stone with the crime and whose names are being withheld by the authorities, were subpoenaed yesterday afternoon.

"We have an 'ironclad' case against Stone," Chief Dep. Dist. Atty. Byron Pitts said. "We have a case built up by the three investigators whose entire work presents itself as the most successful piece of detective work I have ever witnessed since I have been in public office."

These three investigators are Deputy Sheriffs Wier and Hackett, working under Under Sheriff Biscailus, and Capt. J. D. Hunter, representing Dist. Atty. Keyes.

"What good will an armored car do after bandits have done their banditting and bank robbers have robbed banks?" asked the committee, and answered their own question by saying "no good."

WIFE SUES ON CHARGE OF CRUELTY
Divorce Plaintiff and Action for Damages Make Hectic Life for Oil Man

William M. McComb, who, according to his wife, is part Indian with an income of $11,000 annually in Oklahoma oil royalties, has been having a hectic time recently in damage and divorce suits as any criterion.

Mrs. Chrystal May McComb, through her attorneys, H. H. Harris and Virgil G. Lewis, yesterday filed suit for divorce, charging cruelty. The McCombs were married May 12 and separated August 12. During those three months, Mrs. McComb declared, their apartment was the scene of wild parties. At one of these, the complainant continued, her husband got into a quarrel with one Margaret Root, who left in anger and retaliated by wrecking the McComb family car.

Judge Hardy allowed Mrs. McComb $300 a month alimony pending disposition of the case. Mrs. McComb is now living with her uncle, Peter Askew, at the Talmadge Apartments, 2375 Wilshire Boulevard.

Edward C. Hahn, an automobile salesman, recently filed suit for damages against McComb. He asserted that on May 10, two days before the McComb applicant, he had been violently ejected from McComb's apartment, with serious damage to his nervous system.

BANDITS AND THIEVES PUT IN BUSY DAY

Four Held-up and Many Burglaries Committed in Sunday Crime Flurry

Four hold-ups and as many burglaries were among the Sunday-night crimes yesterday reported to police.

C. W. Duffy, oil-station operator at Esperanza street and Whittier Boulevard, had an encounter with two men, who jumped on his car as he was on his way home. After taking his watch they demanded his money; when he denied having any they knocked him out with a blow from a pistol butt and took $200 he had in a bag on the front seat.

Six men invaded the room of Dave O. Calder, 1197-A East Seventh street, early yesterday, beat him and took $400 in jewelry, he reported. Henry Handler, a druggist at 5979 South Figueroa street, lost $135 to a single bandit who came into the store a midnight, making his face with his coat.

Burglaries were reported by L. T. Kakawa, 325 East Fourth street, who lost $150; Dr. K. J. Miller, 1013 Romaine avenue, who lost $800; Mrs. Stella Roth, 5540 Hollywood Boulevard, from whose store $150 in lingerie was taken; and Art Fenstermaker, 5548 Ruthellen street, who lost $1000 in furniture and clothing. The thieves even took candy.

TEN-FOR-ONE SENTENCING TO BE TODAY

Hibbs and Hennessey May Receive Terms as High as 300 Years in Prison

Thomas Hennessey and Harry D. Hibbs, "ten-for-one" brokers convicted Friday in Judge Hahn's court on thirty counts of grand larceny in connection with the $4,000,000 oil manager scheme, will appear before Judge Hahn today at 10 a.m. for sentence.

The charges under which they were found guilty carry a penalty of from one to ten years in the penitentiary, making it possible for them to be sentenced to from thirty to 300 years. They may be sentenced on each count consecutively or concurrently, but it is considered likely that the sentence will be of such severity that they will not be eligible for parole in less than ten years.

Defense Attorney Schenck is expected to file a motion for a new trial after the sentence is imposed, or, failing in that, will file a motion of appeal. He will seek release of the pair on bail. During their trial they were at liberty on bail of $75,000.

ACCUSED VIOLATOR OF PASSPORT LAW DIES

Because Paola Cilluffo died two weeks ago in St. Louis his lawyer, Wallace Davis, yesterday asked United States District Judge Henning to dismiss the charges against him and set aside forfeiture of Cilluffo's $2000 bond. His death was not learned of until his counsel investigated the reason for his absence.

TWO MUCH FIRST WIFE SAYS DIVORCE PLAINT

"Billie" Alvin, stage favorite, was in New York yesterday but that did not prevent her suit for divorce from George Marston being heard by Judge Gates. A friend, George O'Dell, was in court to corroborate the story of cruelty told in the actress's deposition. Marston, it was charged, could not forget his former wife, Nellie Marston. Although his new wife wrote him letter after letter, according to her deposition, pleading with him to come back to her, he kept on associating with his first love. A number of letters signed "Nellie" were introduced into evidence. Judge Gates took the case under advisement.

SUSPECT IN DEATH HELD FOR INQUEST

Jurisdictional Dispute in Vernon Killing Believed Cause of Order

Apparently due to a jurisdictional dispute between the Vernon police department and the sheriff's office, Leland Harder, alleged slayer of J. W. Rutherford in a triangle affair, yesterday was held incommunicado at the Vernon police station, with no charges filed against him. There will be an inquest in the case tomorrow, and until this is over, it was said, the District Attorney's office will take no action.

Harder shot and killed Rutherford at the latter's Vernon home Sunday then returned to his home in Monrovia and surrendered to the Chief of Police there, according to the latter.

During the afternoon Mrs. Harder visited her husband in his cell and apparently they made up their difficulties. She said she would stand by him in his trouble and declined to enlarge upon the tragedy. She said the American Legion Post at Monrovia had interested itself in the case through Vice-Commander J. R. Harris.

Man Held in Gas Death Defended by Former Wife

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
VENICE, Sept. 28.—Stating she did not believe the stories published in newspapers about her ex-husband, John Lehnars, who is being held by Sacramento authorities pending the result of an inquest into the death of Al H. Bryner, tax assessor, Evelyn Carew Lehnars, sister of Ora Carew, well-known motion-picture actress, this morning asserted she knew nothing of her ex-husband's recent activities other than what she had read.

Mrs. Carew Lehnars, who is living at 59 Dudley avenue, refused to see newspaper men today, but left a letter with which in which she stated she and her son had been separated from Lehnars for twelve years and that she knew nothing of him. She further asserted that her ex-husband's disposition and nature is such that it appeared incomprehensible to her that he could harm anyone.

Lehnars and Bryner were found in a gas-filled room in a Sacramento hotel Wednesday morning. Bryner was dead and Lehnars is said to have been only partially conscious. They were asserted to have been drinking. Lehnars is being held until an analysis of the dead man's stomach can be made to determine the cause of death.

CAMP SISTER IN ESTATE FIGHT

Moves to Oust Mrs. Brown as Executrix

Base Plea on Grounds of Murder Conviction

Her Petition Argued Before Judge Van Zante

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
HARTFORD, Sept. 28.—The petition of Pearl King, sister of the late Lee Camp, for the removal of Mrs. Jennie Laura Brown as administratrix of the estate of the deceased, on the ground that Mrs. Brown, with John W. Tipton and Fred Miller, had conspired to murder in the second degree on their trial for conspiracy to murder Camp, was argued today before Judge Van Zante.

The attorney for the petitioner, Henry G. Tardy, contended that Mrs. Brown is disqualified by reason of her conviction, and is unable by reason of being in the County Jail to discharge the duties of administratrix.

Attorney George M. Nuss argued that, withstanding pendency of all appeal and that the conviction is in the Superior Court, he set aside, the contention of disqualification of Mrs. Brown was not valid and there is no proof that the duties of her office are not being properly performed.

The issue was finally submitted. Other issues growing out of Camp's death in the contest of the will in which a jury is demanded to be met.

Fresno Courts Declare War on Masher Tribe

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
FRESNO, Sept. 28.—Following their arrest last night as masher, Joe Meyers, 46 years of age, of Fresno, and Peter Peterson and M. D. Bixler, 32 years of age, of Fresno, were taken to the County Jail today on charges of disturbing the peace.

The arrests are the first in a campaign ordered by Acting Chief of Police Farnes to clean up the city of sidewalk shams and automobile mashers.

Meyers got into difficulty when he picked out the wife of a policeman as the object of his attentions. The husband, C. E. Chapman, arrested him.

Peterson and Bixler were arrested on complaint of two girls who claimed that they were driving about the city the other night when they were in another car and tried to force their attentions upon them.

Farnes has ordered that arrests be made in every instance where women or girls complain of being annoyed, or where the police see such incidents.

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

MONROVIA CHAMBER PICKING SECRETARY

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)
MONROVIA, Sept. 28.—That Louis Carrigan of Redding probably will be the new secretary for the local Chamber of Commerce was admitted this afternoon by Frank E. Wood, president, when shown press dispatches from the Northern city stating that Carrigan had announced his appointment. "No final action by the board of directors has been taken on candidate," Wood declared. "However, I know that Mr. Carrigan was in Monrovia Saturday and understood that the new secretary committee probably would recommend him to the directors for final acceptance. Carrigan certainly was slightly premature in any such announcement."

Carrigan was secretary-manager of the Northern California counties Association for six years prior to its disbandment on July 1, last. The local secretaryship has been vacant since the officers met, when Frank Wilfong resigned to accept an industrial promotion position.

Noted Instructors Added to Teaching Staff

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
PASADENA, Sept. 28.—The old theory that murderers return to the scene of their crime; that chickens come home to roost; that pigeons always fly back to their first nest, to mention a few examples, received surprising confirmation today. It happened like this:

D. R. Fuller, convicted in Police Court of drunkenness, was serving a thirty-day sentence in the Arroyo Seco prison camp. Eluding the guard about a week ago, Fuller escaped and was subsequently caught by the police.

When he was arrested, a pocket knife, 11 inches long, a few trinkets were taken from him by the desk sergeant at the police station.

Today the erstwhile prisoner walked into the station, told the sergeant his name, when he was with him and otherwise identified himself, and then asked for his belongings.

The sergeant explained to Fuller that while his escape had been a very clever piece of work, the return was not so brilliant. Fuller was looked upon as a deserter and the remainder of his sentence beyond the bars of the jail.

Give Complete Support to Water-Storage Dam in San Gabriel Canyon at Pine Canyon

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
PASADENA, Sept. 28.—Construction of a large water storage dam in the San Gabriel Canyon, by the city of Pasadena, will receive the complete support of the Board of City Directors. This stand was unofficially taken by the officials today, following a tour of inspection to Pine Canyon, in the San Gabriel, where the city has selected a site for the project.

"I am heartily in favor of the plan," declared Chairman Franklin B. Cole of the Board of Directors today. "I think the city has the logical site in Pine Canyon, and the dam would save great quantities of water that is now going to waste."

The impression has gone around that Pasadena is trying to appropriate water that would go to other communities. This is not true. The proposal is merely to save water.

Old Saying That Chickens Come Home Proven

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
PASADENA, Sept. 28.—The old theory that murderers return to the scene of their crime; that chickens come home to roost; that pigeons always fly back to their first nest, to mention a few examples, received surprising confirmation today. It happened like this:

D. R. Fuller, convicted in Police Court of drunkenness, was serving a thirty-day sentence in the Arroyo Seco prison camp. Eluding the guard about a week ago, Fuller escaped and was subsequently caught by the police.

When he was arrested, a pocket knife, 11 inches long, a few trinkets were taken from him by the desk sergeant at the police station.

Today the erstwhile prisoner walked into the station, told the sergeant his name, when he was with him and otherwise identified himself, and then asked for his belongings.

The sergeant explained to Fuller that while his escape had been a very clever piece of work, the return was not so brilliant. Fuller was looked upon as a deserter and the remainder of his sentence beyond the bars of the jail.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)
ALHAMBRA, Sept. 28.—C. R. Gordon, 45 years of age, seaman of Uncle Sam's fleet, just back from the world cruise, obtained shore leave Sunday, but forgot that he would not shore leave in Australia. Norton's court here today on a charge of possession of liquor, Gordon made a clean breast of the affair, in which he and four other were arrested Sunday night in an automobile in San Antonio Canyon by deputy sheriffs. "I didn't realize the nature of the offense in my own country," he explained. A fine of $500 was suspended on promise of the sailor to get on the water wagon and to report the escapade to his commander. The other members of the party, including Gordon, had taken full responsibility for the liquor found in the car.

Lunch-Counter Business Falls off When Fair Customers Are Told Food Served Has Tendency to Ruin Much Desired Schoolgirl Figure

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)
INGLEWOOD, Sept. 28.—"Take a look at the boss, then eat here," a sign over the fountain lunch of Clint Spaulding, local drugist, caused an unexpected and unforeseen ebb and flow of business. The unexpected, as usual, was due to a female and capricious woman, but again the unexpected happened.

Mrs. Frank D. Parent, just back from a vacation, brought the glad news to Clint that a plump and buxom, well-rounded figure is again to be "in vogue." "I've chile" and "comme il faut." This word from Inglewood's social arbiter was enough, and again the fair customers gladly trooped back to the fountain lunch trade is made up of young women. Instead of the expected rush of business when the sign was read, there was a marked falling off, the long counters being almost bare of the usual array of fetching fluff styles and alluring femininity. One look at Clint was enough to convince them that there was no place to eat if they would keep their schoolgirl figures. The greatest of the fair customers was not enough to offset Clint's loss, but again the unexpected happened.

Santa Monica Dentist Unveils Gold Tooth Fake

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
SANTA MONICA, Sept. 28.—Perhaps one of the most novel methods of obtaining money under false pretenses ever revealed to local police was brought forward with the arrest this morning of C. Spencer, a man of many aliases.

Spencer was arrested after he had tried his game upon Dr. Kenneth Olds, local dentist. The man walked into his office, displayed a mouth full of gold teeth, told the dentist he had done the work more than a year ago and that he wished some corrections made. The doctor made an examination and gave his patient an appointment. After Spencer had left the office the dentist looked over his books and records to find having done work for the man.

In a few minutes Spencer came in again, said he had stalled his automobile, and would the doctor be so kind as to let him have a small loan and apply it upon his account. Instead, Olds called the police and it was found Spencer is a much wanted man.
